Dear People Whom God Loves,

Whom Do We Follow?

Getting caught in religion can lead to things like violence—maybe physical violence, maybe emotional violence. The horrific terrorist acts that occur are only something written large that lurks in the heart of each one of us. We probably will not go to that extreme, but when we are caught in religion, the tendency is to put people aside, to make divisions, to put people down, to say they are no good, and so on.

Here are some examples. The leaders of the Jewish religion in Jesus' time said people had to be very careful about who they ate with. You didn't dare eat with the people who were unclean, and there were so many things that made people unclean. The ordinary people were always unclean. You weren't supposed to eat with them because if you did, then you became unclean too. Then you could not partake in the Temple worship. So you had to watch out who you ate with.

What did Jesus do? He ate with everybody—the prostitutes, the sinners, the tax collectors, the clean, the unclean—everybody. What Jesus was saying by these actions was part of what got him killed.

Jesus was telling us not to divide people into those who are worthy and those who are not, into those who are clean and those who are not. Jesus was saying that we are all daughters and sons of God. Jesus made this very clear by the way he ate and drank with everybody.

How can we learn from this? Let's look at how we deal with communion. We say that certain people shouldn't receive communion. They are not worthy. Their lifestyle is such and such, so they are not worthy to receive. Just a minute, is that following Jesus or not? When we don't follow Jesus, we should stop and ask ourselves the question: Am I getting caught in religion?

When we get caught in religion, we do things we think are good. We say, "Well, you can come to mass, but don't receive communion." Can you imagine how this would be? Suppose you have a party. You invite people to come to the party. It comes time to sit down at the table and eat and you say, "Now, so-and-so, you stand over there against the wall. The rest of you folks come up and we will have our dinner together." And you actually think you're doing this for Jesus.

It's easy for us to get caught like this. That's why it is so terribly important for us to take a step back and ask: How did Jesus live? How did he talk? How did he act? What were the examples he gave us? When we take a close look at our policies and the ways we are acting, we can realize that they don't correspond to Jesus. We can say to ourselves, Wait a minute. Something is wrong. I'd better stop and rethink this.

As strange as it may seem, Jesus got caught in religion too. As holy and good as Jesus was, even he got caught. On one occasion he was going toward the cities of Tyre and Sidon, which were in Gentile territory. A pagan woman from this territory came to Jesus and asked him to heal her daughter.

Jesus didn't pay any attention to her. She came after him. Finally Jesus said, "You don't take the bread of the children and throw it to the dogs." That's pretty awful. This was Jesus, and yet even he was caught in religion. We shouldn't be surprised when we get caught too.

The woman stood her ground. She said to Jesus, "But even the dogs eat the crumbs that fall from the Master's table." Jesus got it. He said, "Woman, you have great faith," and he healed her daughter.

More to come.

Smile, God loves you,

We will also be selling 5x7 and 8x10 signed, limited edition prints of the original painting. Parishioner Nora Hamberge writes "As Thanksgiving approaches, I'm grateful for how St. Stan's continues to bless my life. Father Clay's vision for St. Stan's of 'welcoming everyone' resonates deeply within me and challenges me to grow spiritually in the very best way. As our spiritual home, we contribute to St. Stan's however we are able. One way could be purchasing the gorgeous new St. Stanislaus print by Tom Dimock. It makes a perfect gift to benefit, honor and love the community we hold so dear." Please see the painting, prints and details for this special fundraiser in our church vestibule.
